

DAVE TIBBOTT'S TOE WILL BE BIG HELP TO PRINCETON TIGERS THIS FALL

Dave Tibbott.

Dave Tibbott did some great kicking for the Princeton Tigers last fall and he has already done a bit this season. A goal he kicked from the 46-yard line made the score that enabled Princeton to beat Tufts recently when no other score could be made. Kicking talent is valued more highly now than ever before and Princeton is fortunate in having such a star as Tibbott.

RAY COPPER BOOM

RAY CONSOLIDATED—$25.50 bid, asked $25.75. This shows a dollar profit over last week's quotations. RAY CONSOLIDATED has paid over $7,000,000 in dividends and is now paying $3.00 a share.

RAY HERCULES—$3.62 bid, asked $3.75. Has 4 churn drills operating—10,000,000 tons of ore blocked out and is building a $1,000,000 mill.

ARIZONA RAY—26 1/2c bid, 27c asked. Listed on the San Francisco Stock Exchange. Application pending on Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

EDMUND L. HIATT, former chief engineer of RAY CONSOLIDATED, is now Assistant Treasurer and Mine Manager of ARIZONA RAY. One churn drill is in operation—one shaft progressing rapidly—another heavy churn drill ordered. An attractive purchase.

These three Ray stocks should all be listed on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

WEBER CHALLENGES SAN FRANCISCO TO WRESTLING MATCH

Los Angeles Athletic Club
Champion Now in Bisbee
Is to Meet Buzucos Here
Soon for Big Purse.

Peter Buzucos, the San Francisco welterweight wrestler, has found a challenger in Bisbee in R. C. Weber, member of the underground force of the Copper Queen the last two months, but who for the past two years has been champion amateur wrestler of the Los Angeles Athletic Association.

Weber, who appears under the professional name of Elmer Gross, is one of the huskiest boys with one of the huskiest records of any youth on the Coast. At his best he is a light-heavy, weighing around 175 pounds, which is some twenty or twenty-five pounds heavier than Buzucos.

In view of this handicap, and confident of his ability to dispose of the San Franciscan, Weber makes the proposition to throw Buzucos twice inside of an hour for a hundred dollars, and says he and his friends will take all the side money the San Franciscan wishes to put up.

Buzucos, when told of the challenge last night, declared the challenge was accepted, and it is hoped to bring the two wrestlers together today to talk over plans for their match in the near future.

In all probability the Orpheum theatre will be secured, possibly for some Sunday afternoon.

Weber, the challenger, appeared in his last wrestling match at Los Angeles three months ago, when he and Tony Ajax went to the mat for an hour without decision, but it was claimed Weber had the better of his opponent at the finish. A few months before, Weber threw August Sept twice in an hour and six minutes.

On the other hand Buzucos lays claim to the welterweight championship of the world, and has a string of victories as long as his arm, extending over fifteen years of wrestling in public.

WHEN BARRIER OF HATE IS LET DOWN

This photograph, taken recently on the Somme front, shows a British Tommy assisting a wounded German prisoner across "no man's land." There is no hate in the hearts of these men, and the German would have rendered assistance as gladly had the Englishman been the unfortunate.

WILLIAM COLLIER, JR. NEWEST STAR WITH TRIANGLE AT ORPHEUM

"The Bugle Call" Is Name of Photoplay with Youngest Star—Hank Mann Also Appears in Comedy.

A new star of the Triangle program is Willie Collier, Jr., son of the famous Broadway fun maker, Wm. Collier, who has been appearing in Triangle plays for some months. The younger Collier, a boy of 14, has the leading role in "The Bugle Call," a drama of frontier life by C. Gardner Sullivan, to be seen at the Orpheum theatre today.

The boy actor has the part of Little Billy, ten-year-old son of Captain William Andrews, commandant at the military frontier post of Fort McPherson, and is dearly beloved by every one in the place. He has one ambition in life, which he has confided to his very good friend, Sergeant Hogan, and that is to become a good soldier. He already has taken one step in that direction by learning to play the army bugle. To prove that he can play it, he one night rouses the garrison by blowing the alarm.

It is only because he is a good soldier that he can receive with equanimity the news that his father is going to marry again, for he cannot bear the idea of any one taking his dead mother's place he hides away in the stable with his pony and his dog and weeps bitterly until Hogan tells him that a good soldier never cries.

Soon after the wedding his father is called to quell an uprising of the Sioux Indians forty miles away, and his new mother is left in his care. She tries in every way to win his affection, for his attitude hurts her, and she does make him care more than a little.

Then Fort McPherson, itself is attacked by the Indians. The garrison, with most of the men away, is far outnumbered, and they are about to surrender, while Billy, bearing in mind his father's admonition to take care of his stepmother, takes her through a secret passage underground and hides her in a cave in a distant hillside. Suddenly he observes the wavering of the fighting men at the palisade. Believing himself on his bugle and hoping to lead the Indians to believe that his father and the regiment are returning, he blows the charge from a knoll outside the fort.

The outcome of the bugle call is the big thrill of the film.

THE PUREST FORM IN WHICH TOBACCO CAN BE CONSUMED

That is the wonderful tribute paid to Sweet Caporal cigarettes by the London Lancet, the recognized medical authority of the world. This decision was the result of an official test of Sweet Caporal by medical experts. No other cigarette ever received such a remarkable endorsement. Sweet Caporal purity is now being shown to smokers by a

ask Dad, he knows

THE FIRST SMOKE

Nearly every man has started smoking with famous old Sweet Caporal, the original cigarette.

WORLD-WIDE POPULARITY

Wherever tobacco is known throughout the world, Sweet Caporal cigarettes are smoked. Americans who travel over Europe, Asia, Africa and South America can always obtain Sweet Caporal cigarettes as easily as in the United States. Sweet Caporal is the only cigarette that has this world-wide sale and popularity.

FAMOUS "SWEET CAPS"

Many things have been improved in 40 years. Candle-light has given way to electricity, the stage-coach has vanished before the express train, but good old Sweet Caporal, the original cigarette, remains the same—because in four decades the world has been unable to produce a better cigarette. More popular today than ever is Sweet Caporal.

VERSATILE JANE GREY AT THE ROYAL IN "THE TEST"; IS WONDERFUL

Celebrated Actress Appears
This Afternoon and Evening in Stage Success, Produced by the Pathe People.

Jane Grey, the charming star of the powerful Pathe Gold Rooster Play, "The Test," which appears at the Royal theatre today, is one of the few actresses who seem to go from success to success, without any intervening near failure. "The Test" was produced for Pathe from A. H. Woods' stage play of the same name written by Jules Eckert Goodman, author of "Mother," "Treasure Island," "The Man Who Stood Still" and "The Man Who Came Back," by the Astra Film Corporation under the direction of George Fitzmaurice.

Miss Grey was graduated from the Stanhope-Wheatcroft Dramatic School in 1907 and since then after valuable experience in the best stock companies in the country, winning thousands of admirers in Denver and other cities, she has made a tremendous success on Broadway.

Her first actual stage experience was with the Belasco Stock Company in Los Angeles. Immediately following an engagement there she appeared as leading woman with Lee Dittichstein at the Colonial Theatre, Cleveland. She was then seen with the Colonial Stock Company in Columbus, Ohio.

There followed a season at Providence, R. I., with the Albee Players. She was a big favorite and theatre-goers termed her "our little grey lady." Her first Broadway engagement was with David Belasco's production of "Is Marriage a Failure?" The play was a success and Miss Grey was seen as Lulu Wheeler.

She was Leo Dittichstein's leading woman in David Belasco's wonderful production of "The Concert." Then she was featured with John Emerson in Charles Frohman's production of "The Conspiracy," a tense melodrama of emotion. She was again featured with Bruce McRae in Edgar Selwyn's hilarious farce, "Nearly Married" and again with John Barrymore in A. H. Woods' production of Willard Mack's thrilling melodrama, "Kick-In."

Then she was seen as Miranda in the Drama Society's all-star presentation of Shakespeare's "The Tempest" at the Century Theatre, New York.

Drama, farce, melodrama and fantasy; all with equal success. This shows her versatility.

In the film production of "The Test," Miss Grey is supported by a cast including such Broadway stars as Lumsden Here, Claude Flemming, Carl Harbaugh and Iuez Buck, who created the title role in the stage presentation of "The Misleading Lady."

C. & A. TO PLAY 22NDS.

The C. & A. "Invincible," as Bill Gallagher calls his undefeated football team, will journey to Douglas Sunday morning to play the Twenty-second eleven in the afternoon. They will take autos from opposite the railway station at Bisbee at 11 a. m. Banks, the Twenty-second star third sacker seen often at Warren park this summer, is captain of the soldier's football team. With the C. & A. in addition to those seen in action in previous games, are John Galt and two players he brought over with him from the Coast.

BOWLING TOURNEY ENDS.

The Professional team captured the "V" bowling tourney which ended last night, from ten teams, and will go to Douglas to compete for the Walter Douglas cup in the near future. V. C. Core last night made high score of 220, one point more than his runner-up, Jack Hawley. The average scores of the victors are as follows: Jack Hawley, captain, 161; E. L. Martyn, 159; E. O. Hudson, 155; William Brown, 154; V. C. Core, 162; J. C. H. Amos, 150, and A. O. Johnson, 145. The last two are substitutes.
